Are electrical distribution boxes expensive at construction sites in Singapore

Overview

Electrical Rewiring Cost in Singapore (2025) | DB Box & Socket. Find out the latest 2025 electrical rewiring costs in Singapore, including DB box upgrade.

Key Takeaways

Electrical distribution boxes in Singapore range from around SGD 42 for small metal units to over SGD 1,200 for large or customized boards, with installation costs adding extra depending on complexity.

Retail Prices

For standard metal distribution boxes suitable for construction or site use, prices vary by size and module capacity: Small units (13–18 modules): SGD 42–51Medium units (26–54 modules): SGD 59–98Large units (72–90 modules): SGD 140–180 These prices are for new, ready-to-use boxes and may vary depending on brand and condition (e.g., Voffman metal boxes). Custom-fabricated or industrial-grade distribution boxes, including three-phase units or portable site boxes, are priced based on specifications and require a quotation from suppliers.

Installation and Upgrade Costs

If you require professional installation or upgrading of a distribution board: DB box / distribution board upgrade: SGD 350–1,200+, depending on board size, number of breakers, and testing requirements. Aircon isolator installation: SGD 120–180+Installation costs can increase for three-phase systems or complex site setups, as labor and safety compliance are factored in.

Factors Affecting Price

Board Size and Module Count: Larger boards with more modules cost more. Material and Brand: Stainless steel or branded enclosures (Eaton, Schneider, Hager) are more expensive. Customization: Fabricated boxes for industrial or event sites may require additional design and labor.

Installation Complexity: Surface vs concealed wiring, three-phase connections, and safety certifications affect total cost.

Where to Buy

Raptor Supplies Singapore: Offers a range of electrical boxes with delivery across Singapore. Carousell Singapore: Marketplace for new and used distribution boxes with various sizes and configurations. Lim Kim Hai Electric: Supplier of junction and distribution boxes, including industrial-grade enclosures.

Electrical contractors: Companies like Lito Electrical Services provide both supply and installation for construction sites. For precise pricing, especially for large construction projects, it is recommended to request a quotation from suppliers or licensed electrical contractors, as costs vary with specifications, safety requirements, and installation complexity.
