How much does multimode fiber cost per meter

Overview

How Do Multimode Fiber Optic Cable Prices. | AIMIFIBERThis guide compares multimode cable prices across OM1–OM5 and explains what really moves the number.

Key Takeaways

The cost of multimode fiber optic cable typically ranges from $0. 30 to $5 per foot ($0. 98 to $16.

40 per meter), depending on fiber type, strand count, and construction. Price Ranges by Fiber TypeOM1 Multimode: Generally the most affordable, suitable for short-distance applications, costing approximately $2. 50 to $4.

00 per foot ($8. 20 to $13. 12 per meter) depending on indoor/outdoor ratings and jacket type.

OM3 Multimode: Designed for higher performance over longer distances, priced around $3. 28 to $4. 50 per foot ($10.

76 to $14. 76 per meter) for standard riser or plenum-rated cables. OM4 Multimode: Offers superior performance and future-proofing, costing $4.

50 to $5. 50 per foot ($14. 76 to $18.

04 per meter) for standard cables, with armored or specialized versions reaching up to $13. 50 per foot ($44. 30 per meter),.

Factors Affecting Cost

Fiber Count: Higher strand counts increase the price proportionally. For example, a 12-strand cable is cheaper than a 24-strand or 96-strand cable. Cable Construction: Indoor riser-rated cables are less expensive than plenum-rated or armored cables.

Armored cables for harsh environments or direct burial can add 20–50% to the cost. Jacket Material and Environmental Rating: Outdoor cables with UV-resistant or PE jackets cost more than indoor PVC or LSZH jackets.

Pre-

Termination: Factory-terminated assemblies or patch cables are more expensive due to labor and connectorization. Practical ConsiderationsShort-distance applications like data centers often use OM1 or OM3 to balance cost and performance. Future-proofing for higher bandwidth or longer distances may justify the higher cost of OM4 or specialized cables.

Installation costs are additional and can significantly increase the total per-meter cost, especially for underground or complex routing. In summary, for a standard multimode fiber cable without installation, expect to pay roughly $1 to $16 per meter, with the exact price depending on fiber type, strand count, jacket, and environmental rating.
