Metal Egypt offers a wide range of cable management products, including cable trays, ladders, and raceways. Their trays are engineered for heavy-duty loads and large-scale industrial applications, combining functionality with aesthetic appeal. El Safa is a well-established manufacturer with extensive experience in solid and perforated cable trays, cable ladders, and accessories.

They utilize advanced metal cutting and forming technologies to ensure precision and high-quality standards, making them a trusted choice for both industrial and commercial projects.

Key Considerations

When choosing a steel cable tray manufacturer in Egypt, consider: Material quality: Hot-dip galvanized or electrostatic painted steel for corrosion resistance. Load capacity: Ensure the tray can support the weight of your cables. Customization: Ability to produce trays according to specific project requirements.

Certifications: ISO 9001 or other quality standards for reliability. Project scale: Some manufacturers specialize in large industrial projects, while others cater to commercial or smaller installations. These companies are widely regarded as the most reliable and high-quality suppliers in Egypt, offering durable and versatile cable management solutions suitable for a variety of electrical and industrial applications.
